In this year's final newsletter, I'd like to first thank all of you for your trust. We are honored that, on a daily basis, you trust your most precious treasures into our care. We take our responsibility - to kindly, warmly and gently educate your children - very seriously.

How do we do it? We have a fabulous faculty! Our teachers work so hard to develop lesson plans that complement all of their students' learning styles. They set up an exciting learning environment that motivates their students to think. They nurture their students' curiosity and encourage them to question. They are so dedicated!

I want to thank so many of you for joining us at our Teacher Appreciation Picnic. Our talented educators clearly got the message that their dedication and excellence are greatly appreciated! We also did a special presentation of personalized "Army" jackets with school badges (thank you to US Army Sergeant Mabb) for Morah Adina Dan and Mrs. Sarah Hartman for going beyond the call of duty!

Have a wonderful, restful, rejuvenating summer! Watch for a mid-summer newsletter to help get ready for the 2017-2018 school year!
