

1st Grade Engineers

In the STEM lab, our 1st graders built straw bridges to engineer a type that would hold the most weight.

Moshe Rabbeinu's Yahrzeit

To commemorate the Yahrzeit of Moshe Rabbeinu (7th day of Adar), the 4/5 girls studied numbers 7 & 8 of the Ani Ma'amin list, which focus on the central role of Moshe in the transmission and eternal truth of the Torah.

Edible Math!

To celebrate reaching the end of the first volume of their math book, Mrs. Polatoff's students worked on constructing Edible Addition Pyramids, using tea biscuits, fluff and licorice string! (Incidentally, this yummy celebration took place on Pi Day- 3/14!)

From the Principal

Mrs. Lea Goldstein

Once again, our middle school girls dazzled us! As I mentioned in my introduction to "The Plane Truth" play, the plain truth is that these girls worked very hard to pull off a high-school level performance. There are very few middle schools in the country that do productions at all! However, it would not have been possible without the incredible dedication and patience of our directors, Mrs. Bracha London and Mrs. Devorah Shulman. We would also like to thank Mrs. Michal Davidowitz and the 4/5 Girls for the phenomenal choir (including the debut performance of a new song written by Mrs. Davidowitz). We also appreciate the assistance of the following people: Mrs. Rivka Chilungu - Scenery, Maya Chilungu & Chaya Rennert - Scenery Assistants, Rabbi Danny Goldstein - Sound System, Michali Goldstein - Musical Accompaniment, Chevi Mammon & Esther Mammon - Dance Heads, Tziporah Abrahamson - Dance Assistant, Chevi Mammon & Hindy London - Song Dance Heads, Nechama London & Adina Kaplan - Choir Heads, Chayala Hanson - Choir Assistant, BHH & Rabbi Sloviter and the middle school girls' teachers.

Special thanks to all of the sponsors and to our wonderful, enthusiastic audience.

OU's Teach NYS Delegation in Albany

Our executive director Rabbi Danny Goldstein, and assistant principal Rabbi Dov Chastain, participated in the OU's Teach NY delegation of 700 students and educators at the state's capital in Albany. They held personal meetings with Assemblyman Peter Lawrence, Assemblyman Mark Johns, Senator Joe Robach, and the chief of staff for Senator Rich Funke. We thank them all for their time and all of their efforts to help our schools and community.
